Program Information

Select all terms for which you are applying: [] Fall Semester Year: [] [] Spring Semester Year: []

All students (exchange and study abroad) must pay all tuition and fees for any summer courses they take (exchange tuition awards are not available in the summer). Students will receive more information about summer courses, if applicable, after admission to UAF.

Intended field of study at UAF (PROGRAM OBJECTIVE): []
You must take the majority of your classes within your Program Objective.

Choose ONLY ONE field of study/Program Objective. For available fields of study (also called majors) at UAF, visit: http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/current/majors.html, and choose the field of study in which you intend to take a majority of your classes at UAF. Your field of study at UAF does not have to be the same as your home university field of study. Undergraduate-level students must choose an undergraduate major: only choose one with a "Type of degrees offered": "associate" or "bachelor's." Graduate-level students must choose a graduate major: only choose one with a "Type of degrees offered": "master's" or "doctoral."

Application Instructions

Students from partner institutions who are nominated for exchange are eligible to receive a tuition award, which covers all tuition costs at UAF. Study abroad students are responsible for paying non-resident tuition to UAF. Completed application materials must be submitted electronically (email a scan or fax) by the following deadlines:

1 April for students starting in the Fall Semester

1 September for students starting in the Spring Semester

Upon approval of the application, all application documents must be mailed by post. Students will then receive information on course selection and registration, housing, orientation, and all other UAF information. Typed applications are strongly preferred!
